You must help us Luffy

Prolog: The light

The light is so bright and painful, that I must close my eyes. Me and my crew, we are on this island. Chopper, Robin and Franky wanted to stay on the ship. Franky had to repair it and Robin was chosen to take care of the ship with Chopper. Now, me and the others are here. In this forest. And nothing is, like it should be. I haven't seen any animals ore other living things. It's crazy to go in here. I wanted it so badly. But the first time I set one feet in this forest, I knew there is something. Something that you can't hear and see, but you can feel it. With every step you get closer to the middle. And with every step I got more and more silent. The others must have felt it too, because they got closer to me. Nami had took my arm and I saw her hand shaking. Usopp was scarier than ever and also Sanji and Zolo were tensed. They knew it. They knew that something bad would happen. And it did. From one to the other time. There were footsteps from all sides. We stand together and made us ready to fight. The footsteps became louder and louder. It sounded like the howl forest was full of people. And they came clother. They circled us and whatever it was, it was big. And suddenly it ended. It was quiet. Too quiet. I wanted to say something, but then the light we see now came. I want to go to the others. I want to rescue them. But I don't know what to do. How to get to them? Then I hear screams. Nami! Yes, it was Nami. Another scream. Usopp. What's happening here? Why are they screaming? 'Nami? Usopp? What's going on?' No answer. Suddenly there was a scream behind me. Zolo. 'Zolo! What's...' The nest scream makes me stop. Sanji's voice. Why are they all screaming? What's happening? 'Guys, what's wrong? Where are you?' All at once the fight turns off. Now I can see. What I see, hits me really hard. Nobody is here anymore. I am alone!
